CDGP Suicide Intervention Program

About the CDGP Suicide Intervention Program

This is a pilot project funded by the Department of Health and Aging and is an additional component to the Canning Divisions Infocus Counselling Program. Psychologists in the team are available to provide immediate treatment (contact within 24-72 hours following referral) and short term support for patients who are at risk of suicide, or self harm.

- Eligible patients can access this program over a period of up to 2 months
- Intervention can take the form of both face-to-face sessions and phone contact
- It is free of charge to patients
- GPs remain the case manager

CDGP Suicide Intervention Program

Patient Eligibility

The target group for this program are patients over the age of 16 who:

- Have been discharged into the care of their GPs from Armadale Hospitals and Royal Perth Hospitals, from either the Emergency Department or from a medical ward following an overnight admission after a suicide attempt.
- Have presented to GPs within Canning Division boundaries after an incident of self-harm.
- Have presented to GPs within Canning Division boundaries expressing suicidal ideation.

Exclusion Criteria

This program will not accept referrals where the patient:

- Has had a recent mental health assessment from a state government mental health service (except when in A&E or hospital ward),
- Is being managed by a state government mental health services following discharge.

Patients with a long history of suicidal ideation and/or self harm associated with an enduring mental illness are likely to be best treated by the patient's local mental health service, and are not the focus of this program.

This program is not a crisis service, therefore patients in need of immediate emergency response to serious suicidal ideation or self harm should be referred to existing Emergency or Mental Health Services.

Levels of Response

When referring to the program, GPs are required to indicate their perceived level of urgency of response. These are:

Moderate Risk – Rapid Response

- Is a situation in need of rapid response (within 24 hours) because, while there is no immediate risk, there is a moderate level of distress, greatly decreased level of functioning, and benefits of early intervention to prevent crisis.
- Rapid response interventions can not be nominated after 12pm Friday, Weekends or Public Holidays. Patients requiring a rapid response intervention on these days should be referred to existing Emergency and Mental Health services for further assessment.

Low Risk – Timely Response

- Is a situation in need of timely response (within 48-72 hours) because, while there is no immediate risk, there are several identified suicide risk factors and some level of distress that may put the patient at risk of suicide, and would benefit from early intervention to prevent an increase in distress.

Emergency Response – Not available within this program

If the patient is at significant or extreme suicide risk, and are in need of an immediate response because of serious risk to self or others it is imperative that the client is referred to existing Emergency or Mental Health Services, such as:

- Armadale-Kelmscott Hospital A&E Department
- Royal Perth Hospital A&E Department
- Bentley Mental Health Service (Mills Street Centre)
- Armadale Mental Health Service (Mead Centre, Eudoria Street)

These patients are not suitable for referral to this program until they are properly assessed by a Mental Health service and/or the urgency of their suicide subsides.

Mental Health Emergency Response Line or MHERL (1300 555 788) is a 24 hour service that provides assessment and support in mental health emergencies. They can also assist with the management of acute situations.

Suicidal or self harming patients must be referred to the program through their GPs.

'Provisional' referrals may be received directly from the Armadale-Kelmscott Hospital and Royal Perth Hospital Emergency Departments or medical wards. If the patient does not have a GP, then we will endeavor to find them one.

GP Assessment of Patients Suicide Risk

It is important that GPs assess the risk of their patients carefully. To help with this we have provided a checklist of risk factors. The severity of each risk factor can help determine whether the risk is low, moderate, significant or extreme.

Risk factors include:

- Thoughts and feelings about suicide
- Intention to die
- Poor problem solving skills, feeling of hopelessness
- Plans of suicide and access to means
- Self harming behaviours
- Previous suicide attempts
- Absence of thoughts or beliefs opposing suicide
- Lack of social support, or social isolation

The checklist of risk factors is included in the CDGP Suicide Intervention Program Referral Form. The checklist is not an assessment tool, but serves as a prompt for the types of questions GPs should ask their patients when assessing their risk. It is important to take other relevant information, the extent to which information is variable to you, and your own clinical judgment when making an assessment.

If you required help or assistance, please call Belle Glaskin - Psychologist at Canning Division on 08 9458 0505, or 0437 780 089.
